Heather Cottage in Borówki village - offer of educational activities

Lower Silesian Forest is an extremely rich natural area. In Lower Silesia there aren't another area with such a variety of environments. Therefore, for the lovers of nature here are conducted Lessons in Nature - outdoor activities in the field of ecological education.

Heather Cottage is located in the picturesque village Borówki on the edge of Landscaped Park of Przemków. Wandering through it we can meet, especially in the former military training grounds, amazing moors which honey flavor attracts hordes of bumblebees, bees and beekeepers. Heather Cottage is tempting gifts of undergrowth. It is also the place where are carried out herbal workshops under the watchful eye of the Heather Cottage hostess.

„Fragrant Memory” - the creation of herbal compositions in the form of an image or „Herbal Fragrances” - creating fragrances bags of dried herbs, these are some of the topics from a wide range of educational activities in Heather Cottage. Herbs of self-cultivation are the basis for such products. School groups with the help of the educator doing exercises, observations, research and natural games. Directly in the field and in contact with nature, children and young people perfectly assimilates the base of knowledge about the natural environment by learning to respect it. The main objective of these activities is to increase awareness and ecological knowledge among children and adults in terms of adverse changes in our environment. Thanks to the work with herbs and flowers we realize the diversity of life and by the way there are discussed topics related to the importance of pollinators for nature and for people.
